THREAT TO JAPAN URGED IN HOUSE
Hobson Would Have Aggression in China Regarded as Unfriendly Act.
UNITED STATES IN DARK
Unable to Determine How Far Japan's Demands Have Violated Pact with U.S.

Interest in Japan's demands on China, and their effect on the United States, grew apiece yesterday. Besides occupying the attention of the State Department, the subject broke out on the floor of the House in an exciting debate led by Representative Hobson.

Mr. Hobson spoke on his two resolutions, one of which was offered some days ago. It requests information from the State Department concerning Japan's so-called "twenty-one demands." The second was introduced yesterday. It states that "the people of the United States would view with grave concern and as an unfriendly act any aggressive move on the part of a foreign government against the integrity and sovereignty of China."

Japan is Secretive.
It developed that the United States has been compelled to determine for itself at Peking and Tokyo how far Japan's demands on the Chinese violate the agreement between the United States and Japan as to the open door and freedom of commerce throughout the empire of China, Manchuria and Mongolia. This was admitted semi-officially at the State Department.

The significance of this lies in the fact that when Edwin Ross was Secretary of State he reached an agreement with the Japanese Minister, Baron Takahira, that neither government would take any step offering aggression or any other policy in the Far East without giving notice to the other.

State Department officials said yesterday the real facts of Japan's demands on China are unknown. Certainly, they said, Japan has not told the United States what she would do at Peking or Tokyo.

Washington Wants Facts.
The State Department has instructed the American ambassador at Tokyo and the minister at Peking to get the facts. An official of the State Department said Japan had served notice to the United States to keep hands off in China. Her demands are so worded that within three days Japan is to be supreme, politically and commercially, besides dominating the disposition of China's seaports and inland.

SHOE CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY PAYS
Berberich's Ads in The Herald Are Producing Record-Breaking Results.
EIGHTEEN TONS OF GIFTS
Valuable Presents Which Are Now Being Given Away Will Amount to Enormous Sum of $18,000.

Six pages of shoe advertising in six days' time for one shoe house. That is probably the greatest volume of advertising ever carried by any shoe house in any city in the world in the same space of time. With today's issue, this volume (11061 lines) has been carried by The Washington Herald for Berberich's in connection with their present "$18,000 gift campaign." And this advertising is bringing to the house of Berberich the greatest volume of business ever that big advertiser has ever secured in such a short space of time.

"The month of February is usually one of the dull spots of the year for the shoe business," said Joseph A. Berberich yesterday. "However, we determined to make one of the dull spots of the year the very busiest. And we have been ever since then. There has been such an innovation in shoe styles, such a wealth of new ideas, that the public has been looking for more than ever to meet the approaching season more than half way. So we planned this big gift campaign. Manufacturers wanted a wider introduction and distribution of their products and lent their cooperation. Makers of the shoes we sell told us to go the limit and we went with the best. The present campaign opened with eighteen tons of gifts on hand, a $100 selling valuation to the ton, a total selling valuation of $18,000. Every dollar's worth of which is to be distributed absolutely free among our customers before the close of the campaign, which won't be long the way they have been going. Ever since our doors opened last Monday."

This gift sale means to the purchaser of any pair of Berberich's Korset Slippers, Steadfast and Hazard men's shoes, the choice of a box of Berberich's La Seta patent straight razor and a pair of O'Sullivan's rubber heels, amounting to $10 in value, or three pairs of guaranteed Koro-Tair black silk hose and a pair of O'Sullivan's rubber heels, amounting to $12 in value. Every purchaser of La France, Pajama, or Cartman women's shoes will be presented with a two-pound box of Lady Fairfax candy, a 50-cent jar of Pond's Face Powder, a 25-cent tin of Pond's Face Powder (a total value of $2).

As the Best & Packard Burroughs Korset Slippers are sold at the shoe department of the Young Men's Shop, the free distribution of hose, O'Sullivan's heels, and razors is also being made at the Young Men's Shop, 1325 E. street.

SAYS CHARITY DOES NOT BEGIN AT HOME

Rev. L. C. Marsh Pleads for Foreign Missions in Address to Mass Meeting.

That charity and missionary work do not begin at home was the assertion made by Rev. L. C. Marsh, head of the laymen's committee of the Episcopal Board of Missions, in addressing a mass meeting in Memorial Hall last night, held to launch a campaign to raise $50,000 for foreign missions.

In the midst of the meeting, Bishop Harding, who presided, received word that two persons in the crowd had pledged $1,000 and $1,000 as a start toward the fund.

The progress Christianity has made in China, through the work of the foreign missions, was related by Rev. Arthur M. Sherman, one of the leading missionaries in that country. He said when China is converted to Christianity it will be the strongest evangelistic force in the world.

"We were afraid," said Rev. Marsh, "that the present spectacle of the nations clawing at each others' throats would check the advance of mission work in China. On the contrary, it has reached me alone that the work in that country has been doubled."

The strides made toward Christianity by the people of Brazil were related by Rev. William C. Brown, D. D., bishop coadjutor of Virginia, who has been one of the leading missionary workers in South America. He said that in twenty-five years the Episcopal church has been so firmly established among those people that they now are almost self-supporting.

Rev. L. C. Marsh reversed the quotation from the Bible to read, "What doth it profit a man to save his soul and lose the whole world," in order to impress upon the minds of the people the need for missionary work.

An earnest appeal was made to the people to strive, during Lent, to realize their duty towards foreign missions and then fulfill their duty. All the leading Episcopal clergymen of the Washington and the surrounding diocese occupied the stage. Music was furnished by a section of the Marine Band.

BABY TYSON MUST LIVE ON $2,500 INCOME, SO REFEREE DECREES

MRS. JOHN H. TYSON, BABY TYSON'S MOTHER.

Special to The Washington Herald.

New York, Feb. 17.—George L. Tyson, the seven-months-old son of John Hamilton Tyson, of New York and Riverside, Conn., known as the champion hoodoo automaton, because of the numerous accidents he has been in, will live on an annual allowance of $2,500 deducted from his own income, according to a report filed by Emory R. Buckner in the Surrogate's Court today.

Tyson applied to Surrogate Cohalan for permission to spend $2,000 a year for the care of his baby, who has an income of $2,500 a year, and is held to more than $200,000. His son's estate, Tyson recited in his application, amounts to $20,000, and he adds that his own income, in view of the heavy demands made upon it, is not sufficient to support his child in the manner he deserves.

The petition explained that arrangements had been made to take the baby to Florida upon advice of the family physician. Tyson's net annual income is $15,000, the referee reported. Tyson was appointed one of his son's guardians. The other guardian, Charles D. Lockwood, testified during the hearing before Attorney Buckner that Tyson's income is $25,000, but that he has to pay his former wife $5,000 a year, and also has an indebtedness of $75,000 upon which he has to pay interest.

Mrs. Tyson, the mother of Baby Tyson, married Tyson in Florida, after his first wife, Mrs. Grace Ethel Tyson, obtained a divorce. The second Mrs. Tyson was Miss Dorothy Davidson.

U. S. HEARS GERMAN ARMY WANTED CARGO

Grave Charges from British Sources Being Investigated by State Department.

The United States government is investigating charges that the cargo of the American steamship Wilhelm, now in charge of a British prize court at Falmouth, England, is really destined for use of the German government instead of the civilian population of Germany, according to a report from an authoritative source last night.

It is said that the charge that the mission of the Wilhelm's cargo was misrepresented has emanated from British sources and that the State Department has called upon the Department of Justice for a complete investigation. This investigation is believed to have been in progress for a week or more, and it is probable that by this time the United States government has formed a fairly definite opinion as to the real basis of the British charges.

The circulation of this report as to the Wilhelm is viewed by officials here with great seriousness. The substantiation of the British charges would have the effect of adding to the irritation already felt by the United States in certain acts of the German government.

This government has almost accepted responsibility for the statement that the ship's cargo was intended for the use of civilians.

PROBE BREAD PRICE CONSPIRACY

Hig Baking Company Accused in New York Investigation.

New York, Feb. 18.—District Attorney Perkins announced tonight that he will begin an immediate investigation into the conspiracy charge made against the Hig Baking Company by Deputy Attorney General Alfred I. Becker in connection with the increase in the price of bread.

The Hig Baking Company, the branch plants in various parts of the country. Robert H. Ward is president of the concern, and its most prominent director is Henry George Phipps, son of Henry Phipps, former partner of Andrew Carnegie, and well known for his philanthropies.

There is a large affidavit that Ward and his associates told them no bread would be sold them unless they agreed to charge six cents a loaf for it.

CAMPAIN FOR CLEAN CITY TO BE PLANNED

Civic, Trade, and Labor Bodies Will Discuss Work to Begin Easter.

Representatives of civic, trade, and labor organizations of the District will meet in the offices of the Washington Builders' Exchange, 1200 New York avenue northwest, tonight to plan for the "clean city" campaign to be put in practical working order next Easter. A. H. M. Ghan, chairman of the campaign committee, will preside.

The "clean-up and paint-up" campaign has been endorsed by the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association, Clean City Association, Builders' Exchange, and other civic and trade organizations. The movement was originated by the Master Painters' and Decorators' Association of the District, and backed by the International Master Painters' and Decorators' Association at their convention here last week. Labor organizations also are supporting the scheme.

The campaign, as explained by its name, will be begun Easter, when property owners and householders throughout the District are expected to co-operate with the organizations in beautifying and cleaning the city. Between now and the opening date, the campaign committee will interest other organizations and citizens generally to support of the movement.

WHAT DID BARNUM SAY?

Caroline Had a Little Scheme and Fish Bit on Broadway.

New York, Feb. 18.—The nucleus of a farce comedy, entitled "The Poobs of Broadway" lies in the arrest of pretty Caroline Klunk, aged seventeen, by Secret Service men today. Caroline had a little scheme that had the green goods game backed into the bull rushes—and she operated it to a fare-you-well, right where the Broadway lights shine brightest, among the "wisest" New Yorkers.

Caroline's scheme was to sell a government job, the sole duties of which consisted of drawing a salary. She had a "friend" in Washington named Wilson, who was "very close to the President," she claimed, who could and would get a fat job for anybody she recommended. All she wanted for her recommendation was $200. And the wise New Yorkers bit like snapping turtles. The proceeds of Caroline's little game are said to total several thousand dollars.

LAUDS NORTH CAROLINA.

Secretary Daniels Tells Diners It Is Fair and Historic State.

North Carolina was lauded as one of the fairest and most interesting historically of all States by Secretary of the Navy Daniels at the annual banquet of the North Carolina Society last night at Rauscher's. More than 100 North Carolinians listened to the felicitous remarks of the Cabinet member.

"The average American receives only about 500 hours of education, despite the fact that he passes through 18,000 hours of life up to the age of twenty-one years," remarked Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, in the course of an address dealing with the educational advances in the State. Dr. Claxton declared that North Carolina probably was making greater progress along general lines than any other State.

Among the other speakers were Representative Robert N. Page, Maj. Charles M. Steadman, also a member of Congress from the State, P. B. Gold, mayor of Washington and New York, and Thomas Dixon, author of "The Leopard Spots."

TULLOCH DIES SUDDENLY.

Attorney Falls in Floor While Dismantling Letter in Office.

Henry V. Tulloch, forty years old, Princeton graduate and well-known Washington attorney, died at Emergency Hospital yesterday morning, less than thirty minutes after he had been removed from his office in the Union Trust Building in an unconscious condition. He was dictating a letter when he dropped to the floor. His father, Thomas L. Tulloch, was city postmaster of Washington in 1882, at the time of his death. Mr. Tulloch is survived by his mother, an only son, thirty years old, his wife, dying several years ago. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, 1218 B street southeast. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

PLATE PRINTERS ARE HAPPY.

Bureau of Engraving and Printing Gets Extra Half Million.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was reported to the Senate yesterday afternoon from the Appropriation Committee. The most important feature of it was a Senate amendment cutting the appropriation for the valuation of railroads under the La Follette law from $2,000,000 to $1,900,000.

The committee added, however, $177,188 to the bill as an additional allowance to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and for the purchase of special paper to be used in making government notes.

The committee restored $101,000 for the maintenance of Howard University. The increase for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing had been anxiously awaited by the plate printers. John J. Devins, president of the Plate Printers' Union, said last night that the printers were highly gratified.

"The Dams" at Hotel De Gink.
